Note from the Editor

Still plugging away – with demonstrable results! Your BCMC Council and BMS officers are working hard for you, and it is beginning to show in tangible ways. This month the e-Compass will begin being managed through the state website, which should help reduce circulation errors between the Compass and e-Compass. Also new this month is the Alpine Rock School, which will emphasize rock climbing in the mountain arena. While this may only be interest to a minority of our members, it signifies the deep commitment to teaching that is emblematic of the Club. It will offer the instructors and students who attend to

State Board Adopts 2008-2009 Budget

[Editor’s Note: The following article, and the one in the next column, were submitted by Peter Gowen, Representative to the CMC State Board for the Boulder Group and BCMC Council Member. Peter is a Boulder attorney and a longtime volunteer for the Boulder Group.]

At its July 19, 2008 regular meeting, the State Board adopted the budget for the fiscal year covering October 2008 through September 2009. While the budget is similar to the 2007-2008 budget in most areas, a few differences include: 1) the budget includes $124,000 in depreciation expense even though this is a non-cash outlay; 2) the Denver Group fee for services is approximately $5,000 greater than last year; and 3) Scientific and Cultural Facilities District (SCFD) funding is increased from $156,034 in 2008 to $170,209 in 2009..

The budget is balanced at $1,897,487, with revenues matching expenditures. The Denver Group pays $40,335 for operating expenses for the AMC building and $89,898 for staff support of its operation. The Education Department covers its entire revenue of $235,475 from non-membership sources. The Conservation Department receives its $202,000 total revenue, also from sources other than membership dues. Adventure Travel is funded through trip registration fees and generates a surplus of $25,700 to the general fund. The CMC Press has total revenues (all outside membership dues) of $172,220 with an operational deficit

New ED Gets Full CEO Powers

[Editor’s Note: This is a very significant development for the CMC as an organization.]

At its July 19, 2008 meeting, the state board of directors adopted a resolution amending the state CMC Bylaws to transfer the chief executive officer (CEO) functions from the state board President to the Executive Director.

The CMC was founded in 1912, and for years operated totally on the good graces of dedicated volunteers. Without paid staffers in the early years and as it matured, there was no other option to having the President serve as the CEO. In 2008, with an annual budget approaching $1.9 million, sixteen full-time employee equivalents managed by the Golden office, fifteen affiliated groups scattered across the state, and a newly hired Executive Director fully capable of handling the job, the state board reached the conclusion that the job of CMC chief executive officer was too much for a volunteer, part-time President (usually holding a full-time job). It was also pointed out, that it has become a non-profit organization industry standard to have executive directors serve as CEO’s for organizations even considerably smaller than the CMC.

The Executive Director (ED) continues to be fully answerable to and supervised by the state board. Only now, the ED has the authority and the responsibility to make it all work. This includes being the CMC state office contact person for

Chair's Report

The following are the highlights of activities in the Boulder Group over the last month:

Congratulations to John Fernandez for his recent approval as a Group III (5.8 and above) rock leader! John is the 1st Boulder Group member to be approved under the new trip leader approval process where he was approved as a Group III rock leader before first starting as a Group I (up through 5.5) and Group II (5.6 & 5.7) rock leader. We look forward to other strong rock leaders to follow the same path as John.

Did you know that Backpacker Magazine moved their offices to Boulder last year? Their employees helped the Denver Group with a trail work project on 8/16 at the new James Peak Wilderness area south of the Moffat Tunnel. To thank them for their efforts, the Boulder Group Council voted to present one of the Backpacker Magazine employees with a complementary 1-year membership to the Boulder Group.

We had a great Monthly Program in the clubroom in August thanks to the creativity of our new Monthly Program Directors, Nickie Kelly and Susan Flack. Rick Hatfield of Boulder's Open Space and Mountain Parks department gave an entertaining presentation on this summer's fledglings, which had been protected by the recently lifted summer closures.

Thanks for Donna Marino for continuing to plug away at developing an online leadership training program. There are also efforts taking place at the state level on developing a leadership training plan.

Respectfully submitted,
Brenda Leach
Boulder Group Chair

Clubroom Party! Thurs, Sept 11

Stop by the clubroom to meet and socialize with other members! Time: 6-8pm. This is a great time to share your adventure stories from this summer. We'll supply soft drinks, but please feel free to bring other food and drink to share. Then, at just before 8pm, we'll head over to Neptune's to watch Gerry Roach give his "Timeless Flatirons Classics" presentation (optional, of course). So, come one, come all, but please come, and enjoy getting to know some of your other CMC'ers. You just never know who you might meet....

CMC Orientation, Sept 17

Join us Wednesday, September 17, for this bi-monthly meeting where new or prospective members are introduced to the CMC. Share your enthusiasm for hiking, camping, peak bagging, rock climbing, snowshoeing, cross country skiing and more; and all for free! 7 to 8:15 p.m. Wednesday; BCMC Clubroom, 633 S. Broadway (around from Neptunes). Details: (303) 554-7688; cmcboulder.org And as always if you come, try to BRING A FRIEND!

Volunteers Needed

Marketing Committee Chair Open

How would you like to help grow and maintain the Boulder Group membership by managing and directing the marketing activities in the group? This is an important volunteer position and is a great way to meet some really exceptional folks! You'll work with other volunteers in the Marketing Committee such as the Assistant Marketing Chair, Monthly Program Director and Membership Orientation Director. You'll be a member of the Boulder Group Council. And, you'll make contacts outside of the CMC. Many thanks to Kirsten Kindt for her contributions as the past Marketing Committee Chair. If you're interested, please contact Brenda Leach at chair@cmcboulder.org or Rick Casey at compass@cmcboulder.org. □

Cabins Committee Chair Needed

The search is on for a volunteer to head up the Cabins Committee, which maintains the crown jewel of the Club's assets, the Brainard Lake Cabin. After many years of vaunted service, Otto Verdoner has decided it is time for him to relinquish this cherished role. While there are several volunteers on the Cabins Committee filling necessary duties in the interim, a new chair of the committee is still needed. Available time, ability to delegate responsibility and leadership ability are the qualities needed in the potential candidate more than experience with the cabin per se. If you, or someone you know, may be interested, please send email to cabins@cmcboulder.org □

Cabin Work Parties

Time for the Annual Wood Gathering and Cleaning Parties! Årestua Cabin Work Party on Sept 13 and Brainard Cabin Work Party on Sept 27. For detailed instructions, see the Trips Section on pages 4 & 5 on those dates. No need to sign up — just show up! For other questions, contact Otto Verdoner at cabins@cmcboulder.org or 303-443-9883 ottov@csd.net

New Compass Editor Needed

The search is still on for a new editor for the Compass. This could be your chance at an exciting, challenging and stimulating opportunity to learn valuable journalistic skills "on the job" in a position that is central to the information

Fifth Anniversary Poem

You wanted a scooter or mountain bike.
This was much easier to hide on our hike deep in the mountains and up to the pinnacle, rappelling the gully, where things got real cynical,
and back to the trailhead, and down to the cabin,
turning off lights just to see what would happen.

Perhaps it is possibly finally time to pin the old calendars up in a line, reflect on the course that we're presently on:
two little angels buzz-bombing our lawn, riddles laid bare, and messages found in bottles, and stars, and just lying around.

Some mountaineers and desperate pirates on lonely, lost nights, it's said, they would pilot
by holding a jewel to the face of the moon,
be guided by diamonds to ports and doubloons.
Good enough for them, then it's good enough for me - to make time a circle, quantify history, turn it around like a world on your hand,

and you'll see we are covered in sandbox sand
a sheen of thin glory just like nothing else,
and a skin of eternal everything-ness.

It's probably possibly quite finally time for 53 facets dressed up in a line, centered by sapphire, a shimmering blue shot through with silver, like me and like you.

So - one hundred dollars, and a few dollars more for every year - crust, mantle and core - of putting up with you and you putting up with me.
This thing is a handful; this thing isn't free.
(I'm talking 'bout marriage and also this ring.
I'm talking 'bout priceless, impossible things that slip into our every everyday, impossible, but happen to us anyway).

of $3,656. The new museum (which opened in February 2008) has a balanced budget, expecting revenues of $40,600 from admissions, $75,000 in contributions, $33,000 in merchandise sales, and $36,000 from other sources. The SCFD revenues of $170,209 support general overhead, education, and museum programs.

State dues will remain the same. State membership dues are used to pay for the T&T Activity Schedule, general overhead, library and liability insurance. The budget assumes a stable membership. Contributions above membership dues are welcome at anytime.

The Club is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization, and contributions beyond membership dues may be deductible for federal and state tax purposes. (Contact state office for details.) Contributions are a vital part of Club income, and are used to support education and conservation programs, the CMC Press, library, museum and the general fund. New "Easy Ski Tour Series" To Begin

To help students taking the December cross country ski school hone their skills (so that they'll become life-long skiers), we'd like to start an "easy ski tour series" that would offer two to four easy ski tours each winter month, patterned after the successful A/B after-work social hike series. To that end, we're encouraging all current ski leaders to consider leading at least one beginner tour during January through March. And we would love to have Boulder leaders with cross-country skiing experience who don't currently lead ski tours get on our ski leader list! September 15 is the deadline to get a ski tour into the Nov-Jan schedule (December 15 for the Feb-April schedule). Current Boulder leaders seeking to get on the ski leader list should contact Pat Butler, ski tour scheduler, at 303-440-0586, skischeduler@cmcboulder.org. Anyone interested in becoming a leader can find the process and application forms on the Boulder group's website (www.cmcboulder.org) under menu selections Trips → Becoming A Trip Leader. □

High Altitude Mountaineering Seminar

The High Altitude Mountaineering Section (HAMS) of the Denver group will present its twentieth annual seminar on high altitude mountaineering this fall. The seminar consists of six sessions on consecutive Monday nights starting October 6 and ending November 10, from 7:00 to approximately 9:30 p.m. Experienced climbers will present lectures on topics as diverse as organizing an expedition, fitness and conditioning, nutrition and menu planning, high altitude/cold weather medical issues and group dynamics. Mountaineering slide shows from around the world will be featured to complement and expand upon the lecture topics. Attendance of the seminar is a prerequisite for admission to the High Altitude Mountaineering School. The seminar is open to all interested CMC members and the general public. It will take place at the Foss Auditorium in the American Mountaineering Center in Golden. Dates for specific topics may change due to speaker availability. Tuition is as follows: $40 for CMC Members who pre-register, $45 for Non-CMC

Members and CMC Members who do not pre-register.

$8 for individual evenings, payable at the door (CMC Members as well as Non-CMC Members). To register go to www.cmc.org, sign in as a member, then go to "Programs", then "Education". If you cannot register on line, send a check payable to CMC to the CMC office in Golden and note on the check "HAMS Seminar". You can also call the office and pay with a credit card. For more information call the CMC office at 303-279-3080 ext. 2. □
